SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE IN TOURIST TRAFFIC

Alberta enjoyed a substantial increase in tourist traffic during the past season, to judge by the volume of traffic handled through the ports of entry and in the various national parks in the province. Total figures would indicate the number of visitors to the national parks as being over 20,000, including provincial as well as outside travellers, as compared with a figure of 175,000 last year. Most of these came by auto. At the two ports of entry at Calgary and Edmonton, 8,829 cars were handled in the five months from April to August inclusive, compared with 27,187 in 1933, and at Calgary, south of Calgary, 8,829 cars were handled with 39,536 persons in the five months compared with 6,525 cars and 22,427 persons in 1933. At Banff Park, nearly 10,000 persons in cars passed through the east gate this season which was an increase over last year. Waterton Park in southern Alberta had a total of over 36,000 visitors, while Jasper Park west of Edmonton had nearly 10,000 visitors. Waterton Buffalo Park some 10,000 visitors during the summer, while Elk Island Park, 40 miles east of Edmonton, which is becoming increasingly popular as a picnic ground had over 50,000 visitors, compared with about 40,000 last year.

WHAT OF IT

A group of United States magazines is cooperating in an advertising campaign which is now being conducted to sell the idea of peace. The material out of war and the incredible waste of material it causes do not weigh when compared to the toll of lives it takes. The technique of advertising brings out vividly the magnitude of these figures.

The New Yorker, one of the magazines in the group, devotes a full page to a drawing of the Lusitania, in colors. The following legend is underneath the picture:

"This advertisement, written by Bruce Barton, painted by W. J. Apple, and presented here through the cooperation of the New Yorker and the courtesy of the American Magazine, is the first exhibit of an educational campaign dramatizing the horrors of war; a campaign which Henry Ford has called a bold practical plan which dwells all former use of advertising. Cooperation to develop this campaign into a persistent extensive efficient drive for peace is invited by World Peaceways, 102 Park Avenue, New York City.

Bruce Barton's text runs like this: So the Lusitania went down. What of it? "What if it you cry. "The whole world was shocked. For days the newspapers talked of nothing else." Will but what of it? After all, it was a little thing. How many Lusitanias would have to go down to carry all the dead and maimed soldiers and the dead civilians of the great World War? One Lusitania a day. For a year. For 10 years. For 25 years. For 50 years.

One Lusitania a day for 50 years or one a year, beginning nearly a century before the discovery of America by Columbus and continuing to the present hour. That is the number of Lusitanias that would be required to carry the dead! The dead of all nations who died in the war.

—Red Deer Advocate
There is a great political witch hunt going on in Ontario, for a Liberal government has taken power after more than a score of years in opposition. Premier Hepburn and his ministers are initiating many investigations into going-on of politicians and civil servants. Many rather unexciting things are being brought to light and a general house-cleaning will be put into effect.

The old proverb, "A new broom sweeps clean," is true in politics as well as in other lines of human activity. When a government stays in power for any length of time hordes gather on the ship of state, and the spending of public money along with inefficiency frequently develops.

The present Ontario government can render real service to the province by straightening up public matters and putting new life and zest in to the civil service. It inherited a rather unexciting mess from the previous regime and will gain public favor by a general clean up.

(Hanna Herald).

EDITORIAL NOTES

Don't it Stevens has resigned! Politically minded people will watch with keenest interest developments during the next six months. That National Health is to be one of the subjects discussed at the Conference of Provincial Premiers being called at Ottawa dispels the fact that the Dominion Legislature is beginning to recognize the national importance of the prevention of illness. The time will come when the health question will be financed on a basis similar to that of the public schools and physicians will be paid by the state to prevent rather than cure illness.

TRADE WITH UNITED STATES

We have progressed some distance from the old slogan, "No truck or trade with the Yanks," when the business men of Canada join with those of the United States, as represented by the Chambers of Commerce of the two countries in urging their respective Governments to get together and promote a larger exchange of goods produced on each side of the boundary. Canada has trade treaties with France, Italy and many other European countries, but we have no trade agreement of any kind with our big neighbor whose country is contiguous with ours for several thousand miles. Due in spite of this, and in spite of the rather determined efforts on both sides in the last few years to establish a trade blockade, the hostility or of the exchange of goods between the two countries is seen in the fact that a large part of our clothing trade is still done with the United States. That country is today the second best customer for Canadian products, and Canada is likewise the second best customer for the things that the United States has to sell.

In 1929, the peak year of Canadian trade, when our exports and imports totalled $2,654,000,000 more than half that trade or almost $1,000,000,000 worth, was done with the United States. And last year at the depths of the depression, when our total trade sank to $887,000,000, no less than $381,000,000 of that was carried on with the United States. In spite of the heightening of the tariff barriers of both sides in the last four years.

The business men of both countries have felt severely the effects of the heavy loss of trade, and they now realize as never before the importance of each country to the other as a customer for its products. Hence the common sense attitude they are taking of urging the two Governments, which had begun trade negotiations and then let them lag, to proceed and work out an arrangement to facilitate a larger exchange of products.
